Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Jan 7: India President Pranab Mukherjee addressed teachers, research scholars and officers and students of central universities through video conferencing today.

President conveyed a very clear message that we should make a new year resolution for achieving higher standards of academic excellence so that the various institutions in India are counted as best among the world. He encouraged the fraternity of different Central Universities within the country to understand their rights and duties especially towards those who are less fortunate, to be a voice for the voiceless, strength for the weak and to assist those that are in need of help, and to make the best use of their knowledge in service to the country and its citizens.

He further said that our institution must increase their potential for research and promote the spirit of Innovation. In a country of 1.2 billion people, only 8 Indians have so far won the Noble Prize, he emphasised on the need for collaborative partnerships on cutting edge technology, and better linkage with industry, so as to encourage not only meritorious students to do research but also attract talent from all universities.

Nat'l youth policy launched during rally

NSS volunteers from MZU hold youth rally on Friday

Staff Reporter
Aizawl, Feb 28: A 'Youth Rally' organised by NSS unit of Mizoram University today marked the launching of two central government schemes - National Youth Policy 2014 and Rajiv Gandhi Khel Abhiyan - in Mizoram.
A large number of NSS volunteers took part in the rally in the morning that started from the University campus and Tanhril locality.
MZU vice chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga and NSS programme coordinator Prof P Rinawma launched the two schemes.
The two schemes were recently launched at Nehru Stadium in New Delhi by Rahul Gandhi.

The Rajiv Gandhi Khel Abhiyan, aimed at boosting sports in the country, will see a sports complex equipped with "modern facilities" with an estimated cost of Rs 1.75 crore. The RGKA envisages construction of sports complexes in about 7,000 blocks in the country with a total outlay of Rs 13,500 crore.
Similarly, the national youth policy aims at catering to the needs of all youth in the age-group of 15-29 years, which constitutes 27.5 per cent of the population, according to Census-2011, that is about 33 crore persons.

Addressing the students, Prof R Lalthantluanga, said that the Centre has initiated the scheme to accord equal opportunities for physical and mental development of across the country and provide basic facilities for them in rural areas, the 'backbone of the nation.'
Urging students to become sportspersons rather than being mere spectators, he said that determination leads one to achieve one's goals.
The students distributed leaflets giving brief information on the two schemes during the rally.

Blind student cries foul against IGNOU

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Mar 2: A visually-challenged youth has accused the IGNOU of violating his rights when he failed to get a reservation for PH (physically-handicapped) candidates he had hoped for.

Lalhmingsanga, from Moriah Blind School, Luangmual here, alleged that he was denied his "rightful" reservation while applying for an admission to B Ed in IGNOU Aizawl regional centre. Seeking information under the RTI Act, he came to learn that his rights provided by the Persons with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Rights and Full Participation) Act 1995 are "violated" by the university.

"Whereas the Act states that people with 40 percent disability be certified as disabled, disability percentage was not mentioned in any of the disability certificates with which the university gave admission under reservation for people with disabilities," Lalhmingsanga said.

In the RTI document, the regional director of IGNOU stated that the guidelines for seats for PH (physically handicapped) candidates framed by the University does not mention the requirement of furnishing percentage of disabilities by the candidates. "The PH candidates need not attach their disability certificate in application form for entrance test," it added.

The disgruntled visually-impaired youth has made a written complaint to the commissioner for persons with disabilities urging her to take action against "violation" of his rights.

Lalchhanchhuaha, also visually-impaired, had been allegedly made to undergo a physical test just like normal people when he applied for a post in the state's environment & forests department recently.

"It was not until I made a complaint to the central government which issued a notice to the environment & forest department that I was appointed. The 'Person with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Rights and Full Participation) Rules 1995' has not been actually applied in job recruitments in the state," Lalchandama, a graduate, had said.

R S Lalrinpuia, another visually-challenged person, also shared the most difficult chapter of life he had gone through subsequent to losing his sight after he got married. He had been denied admission into a government college in his hometown Saiha in southern Mizoram for three times. Only after social activists intervened he was granted admission.

According to visually-impaired Lalbuatsaiha, who is doing a Ph D in JNU, about 10 persons with visual impairment have got jobs under the Mizoram government, not through reservation under the PWD Act, but out of sympathy from officials of the concerned department.

The testimonies of the differently-abled persons highlighted the lack of awareness about the rights and privileges of the people with disabilities.

"Despite that the state government had adopted the 'Person with Disabilities (Equal Opportunities, Protection of Rights and Full Participation) Rules in 1999, the disabled persons have not fully enjoyed their rights in terms of job recruitments," said Vanlalremruata, general secretary of Differently-abled Society.

"Besides, little has been done to make the state a barrier free environment for people confined to the wheelchairs," he added.

MZU staff aghast over delay in road works

Bureau Report
Aizawl, May 26:
Teaching and non-teaching staff of Mizoram University today expressed deep anguish over the unnecessary delay in the 10-km long Vaivakawn-Mizoram University which has commenced from the later part of 2012.

Calling a press conference today, leaders of Mizoram University Teachers' Association and Mizoram University Non-Teaching Employees Association termed it as "total negligence" on the state's highest institution.

"Due to the non-commencement of works after the fund was sanctioned in June 2012, the university students had to protest to let the works started. Later in 2013, the works were suspended prompting the localities along the road to organise a blockade to let the works resumed," they said.

They said the works were again discontinued from May 24 last due to unknown reasons. They wondered why it took so long to complete just a ten-kilometre stretch of road.

The delay in the road project, according to the two associations, was mainly because of diversion of the company to road projects like Mission Vengthlang ring road, Dinthar-New Secretariat Complex, a total of two kilometres.

They also alleged that due to pending bills, the contractors were unable to pay for diesel, bitumen and labourers wages. This resulted in discontinuation of works.

They demanded explanation from the concerned department on the suspension of the works.

With monsoon setting in, the staff feared that they would have to travel on the muddy and slippery road for yet another year.

Lal Thanzara hits back at MZU staff

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, May 27:

Minister Lal Thanzara, who holds the works portfolio, today hit back at the teaching and non-teaching staff of Mizoram University, in retaliation to their press conference on Monday.

"The government should not be dealt with threats and intimidations," he said.

He clarified that the Vaivakawn-MZU road has been discontinued not because of lack of fund or the contractors' negligence as accused by the MZU staff, but due to shortage of labour.

"Most of the labourers were from Jharkhand who went to back home to attend their paddy fields before May 15. The contractors are currently looking for labourers from Assam tea gardens to replace them. They will hopefully arrive within two-three days," he said.

He said about seven kilometres of the ten-kilometres road have been completed. The remaining two kilometres would be completed once there is adequate labour.

The minister also further said that the PWD always wanted to completed a project within a timeframe but that could not be achieved always due to various technical problems.

"In the case of Mizoram University road, the state government prayed the Sunshine Overseas Pvt Ltd to execute the works even though the company was not interested in the first place. Moreover, the government has been able to pay only Rs 214 lakh of the total Rs 760 lakh for the contract," he said. "Criticising the contractors is highly uncalled-for at a time while they are pursuing the works despite pending bills," he added.

He also said that the MZU road project was the most criticised project and which has the largest number of "authorities."

Ready to work after protest

Protesters fill Vaivakawn junction to block the road to Mizoram University on Thursday

Bureau Report

Aizawl, May 29:

You need a protest to get the government to work.

As it had always been, the authority today agreed to resume the suspended works on Vaivakawn-Mizoram University road from tomorrow (if it does not rain) after three groups of the university staged a roadblock.

The blockade organised by teaching and-teaching staff associations and students' council of the Mizoram University that started from 9:00am today, was called off at 3:00pm, as it was agreed in written that the works would be continued tomorrow or the first non-rainy day.

Formed into a 'joint action committee', the protesters plucked the only road that connects the university from Aizawl, causing heavy traffic snarls in the entire city.

The protesters, who also burnt copies of an agreement between Mizoram government and the contractor Sunshine Overseas Pvt Ltd, vowed to continue the blockade until and unless the government assures them resumption of the road works immediately.

The blockade comes a day after minister of state for works Lal Thanzara lashed back at the teaching and non-teaching staff of the university, in retaliation to their press conference in which they accused the Mizoram government of neglecting the Mizoram University road.

SDC Aizawl district

Vanialsawma, two PWD officials and Aizawl additional SP, were sent to hold talks with the protesters today.

According to the agreement, the contractor will work day and night to complete the remaining two kilometres which are left to be completed.

Works on the 10-km road, from Vaivakawn junction to the Mizoram University, commenced from the latter part of 2012, long after fund for the project had been sanctioned, that too only after the university staged a protest, the MZU joint action committee said. Later in 2013, the works were suspended without any concrete reasons, prompting the localities along the road to organise a blockade to let the works resumed, the committee said.

They said the works were again discontinued from May 24 last due to unknown reasons. The delay in the road project, according to the joint action committee, was mainly because of diversion of the company to other road projects within the city.

They also alleged that due to pending bills, the contractors were unable to pay for diesel, bitumen and labourers wages. This resulted in discontinuation of works.

Refuting the allegations, the minister on Tuesday said the road works had been due to shortage of labour.

"Most of the labourers were from Jharkhand who went to back home to attend their paddy fields before May 15. The contractors are currently looking for labourers from Assam tea gardens to replace them. They will hopefully arrive within two-three days," he said.

7 kilometre of the total 10 kilometres have been completed and the remaining two kilometres would be completed as soon as labourers arrive, the minister has assured.

The protesters said they would even work as labourers for expeditious completion of the road.

Contrary to the minister's claims, it was stated that the labourers were diverted to other road projects. The agreement also ensured that the labourers would not be diverted until the entire works are completed.

✓ Good news for NE biodiversity

New Delhi, June 15: After a series of bad news in the environment sector there is now some good news from the North East, which is continuously affected by loss of flora and fauna.

A new study found that, despite rapidly shrinking habitats, as many as 366 new varieties of plants and 248 new species of animals were discovered by researchers and scientists in India some of which are from the North East. Botanical Survey of India and Zoological Survey of India sources said.

Fifty-four of the fauna species discovered have been noticed for the first time in the country. The new record vastly enhances the biodiversity of India - one of the 12 megabiodiversity countries of the world - with Western Ghats and Eastern Himalayas being two of the world's 25 biodiversity hotspots.

About 29 per cent of the new plant varieties were discovered in the Western Ghats, and 20 per cent in Eastern Himalayas. Western Himalayas and the Deccan Peninsula account for 14 per cent each, while the North-East accounted for 9 per cent, the BIS sources said.

Andaman and Nicobar, Eastern India and semi-arid regions accounted for 5, 6 and 3 per cent of the new findings, respectively. With 47,513 plant species, Indian flora accounts for about 11.4 per cent of the total recorded plant species in world.

A majority of the new animal species were reported from North-east Himalayas, Western Ghats and the Andaman and Nicobar Islands. India is home to 92,873 animal species, about 6.64 per cent of the world's recorded 13,99,189 animal species.

Scientists at the ZSI said the discovery of 11 new fish varieties would widen the existing fish base of more than 2,500, providing more food and livelihood. With about 17,000 coastal species, India is still far behind China and Australia. The two countries have more than 20,000 marine species each.

The rate of extinction in India due to habitat destruction is said to be at least 1,000 times the baseline studies. The new species were recorded in a small area of operation and were most threatened, ZSI sources added.

UGC chief to VC: Act quickly on FYUP review

Akshaya Mukul | TNN

New Delhi: A day after University Grants Commission asked Delhi University to reconsider and revise the four year undergraduate programme, UGC chairperson Ved Prakash wrote directly to vice-chancellor Dinesh Singh to fast-track the review.

UGC sources said after the chairperson's letter, DU is left with very little option. "Communication from the head of regulatory body needs to be taken very seriously by the university. UGC is articulating the unanimous opinion of the full commission," a source said.

Sources said it was decided by the commission that the matter should be dealt directly between the heads, rather than senior officials. UGC's Monday letter was sent to DU registrar Alka Sharma. "We will give few more days to DU to decide. Next action will depend on how the university responds," a UGC official said.

DU sources said the VC is making all attempts to convince the government and the ruling establishment about the efficacy of FYUP. "VC has reached out to some senior RSS leaders. He is also planning to introduce Vedic studies in the academic council meeting of June 21. It is a desperate act by the university administration," a senior history faculty member said.

Within UGC, sources say, it will be difficult for the commission to abandon the process midway. "Illegality has been found and no less than the Visitor's clearance is missing. It is against the provisions of DU Act," the source said.

Protest continues

New Delhi: The office-bearers of DUTA and DU Students' Union sat down with several student organizations to discuss the unflinching stand taken by the vice-chancellor despite the entire UGC declaring FYUP illegal as it violates the National Policy of 10+2+3 and as approval for it was never sought from the Visitor.

They condemned the VC's "arrogance" in calling an academic council meeting on June 21 to pass more courses under FYUP and "his cavalier attitude to the future of thousands of students, whose degrees are in danger of de-recognition".

Meanwhile, DU court member V K Agrawal was alarmed by the revelation that DU is running FYUP since 2013 without any formal approval of the HRD ministry and UGC as reported by the MHRD secretary, Ashok Thakur, in the meeting of the entire commission. TNN

UGC orders immediate roll back of FYUP

Anita Joshua

NEW DELHI: In a carefully-calibrated move, the University Grants Commission (UGC) on Sunday ordered the Delhi University to immediately revert to the three-year undergraduate programme that was in place before the introduction of the controversial Four-Year Undergraduate Programme (FYUP) in the last academic year.

While Sunday's UGC order is a reiteration of the order issued to Delhi University on Friday, the latest one warns that any deviation from this directive would be "deemed to be in contravention of the UGC Act, 1956, with its consequences."

The order was accompanied by letters to the principals of all the 64 colleges of Delhi University informing them about the FYUP roll-back with immediate effect and also the arrangements being made to ensure that students enrolled for the programme in 2013-14 can make a smooth migration to the three-year programme. The announcement came just a day ahead of the announcement of the first cut-off list for the FYUP.

Simultaneously, UGC issued a public notice - on behalf of the Chairman and addressed to students and parents in particular - about the decision; explaining that the switch-back was necessary to ensure that the undergraduate programme offered by Delhi University is in consonance with the 10+2+3 structure envisaged in the National Policy on Education (NPE) of 1986.

The Commission has also decided to set up a Standing Committee to advise Delhi University on the modalities for migration from the FYUP to the three-year programme. The 10-member Standing Committee - headed by the UGC Vice-Chairman - will have "wide representation" from teachers, students and statutory bodies of Delhi University, and its main mandate would be to ensure that students admitted to FYUP in 2013-14 acquire the necessary academic and other competencies over the next two years while migrating to the three-year programme.

Ultimatum to DU for scrapping FYUP

all necessary steps to adhere to the three-year undergraduate programme.

Noting the decision of the university's academic council - which passed a resolution on Saturday - to reconsider its directives, the UGC said that it had "already considered the matter", "its non-adherence to the National Policy on Education and the national system on education", and the "adverse impact on the large students community of this country due to implementation of FYUP".

The UGC further directed the university to inform all colleges of the directive for strict compliance, and to "report compliance to the Commission of these directives by forenoon of 23rd June 2014 without fail".

UGC has also decided to constitute a 10-member committee with representations from teachers, students and statutory bodies to advise DU on the implementation of the directive. They would ensure that students who were admitted in 2013-14 are able to migrate to the three-year programme without any problems, and acquire the necessary academic and other competencies during the next two academic years, the UGC said.

When contacted, DU officials said a decision would be made after due deliberation. "There is no clarity yet on the course of action," said Malay Neerav, Joint Dean of Student Welfare and media coordinator, DU.

Meanwhile, with the admission process at the university set to get under way by June 24, St Stephen's College on Sunday decided to defer the admission procedure for the time being. "We will stick to the interim schedule for pre-admission process, but the decision on what course the students will be admitted under will be taken only after there is more clarity," Karen Gabriel, media co-ordinator, St Stephen's College, said.

UGC to DU: Don't admit students under FYUP

New Delhi: Toughening its stand, University Grants Commission (UGC) on Sunday asked Delhi University and all its colleges to conduct admissions only under the three-year undergraduate programme and not under the controversial FYUP while warning of "consequences" if its direction is violated.

The UGC direction for the coming academic session came a day after the Delhi University struck a defiant note, rejecting the Commission's directive to scrap the controversial four-year undergraduate programme (FYUP). "Under no circumstances shall the University of Delhi or any of the colleges under it admit students to the

UPCPMT cancelled over paper 'leak'

FYUP for academic year 2014-15," the commission said in a statement.

Officials said disobeying the UGC direction could spell trouble for DU as it could stand to lose grants and de-gresses offered by the varsity could be de-recognized.

The UGC said that it would be ensured that students, who were admitted in 2013-14 in FYUP when it was introduced, are able to migrate to the three-year programme.

In the statement, the UGC said "admission for academic year 2014-15 at the undergraduate level in the general degree programmes (including the Honours programme in different subjects of Humanities, Science and Commerce) in various colleges under the University of Delhi shall only be to the 3-year undergraduate programme which was offered prior to the introduction of the FYUP". P11

7 colleges tell UGC they will offer 3-year courses

Akhaya Mukul / TNN

New Delhi: The see-saw battle between Delhi University and UGC over FYUP continued till late on Monday night, even as some colleges—reportedly seven of them—have written to the UGC clarifying that they will observe the traditional three-year degree course.

On Monday evening, in response to its directive of compliance of its order doing away with FYUP, the UGC received the copy of a letter in Hindi from DU, addressing college principals. The letter merely annexed UGC's Sunday directive and told principals that "it is self-explanatory".

UGC has responded to that asking DU if its communication to principals should be taken as compliance of its order. "We do not want to leave any room for interpretation. Compliance should be stated clearly," a source said. At the time of going to the press, DU had not replied to UGC's query.

Earlier, DU had sent the legal opinion of senior counsel P P Rao which said that the university had followed all the procedures while introducing FYUP indicating that the DU administration was digging in its heels and still seeking to avoid a rollback of FYUP.

With most colleges having deferred admission by a week, UGC sources said DU administration should be prepared for action. "Long ago Supreme Court had settled that UGC is supreme. The case relates to a fight between DU and UGC," a source said.

The day began with a meeting between HRD minister Smriti Irani, UGC chairperson Ved Prakash, education secretary Ashok Thakur and senior ministry officials. Sources said it was decided that DU has to comply with the UGC directive of discontinuing FYUP vice-chancellor Dinesh Singh was also summoned. However, Irani did not meet the VC. Singh and DU registrar Aika Sharma had nearly two hour meeting with Ved Prakash, Thakur and other higher officials.

Sources said that Singh kept insisting that no wrong has been done by the university in introducing FYUP. However, when asked specific questions about various ordinances related to introduction of FYUP, Singh and Sharma did not give any reply. For instance, it was pointed out that BSc degree for a course in Innovation and BTech in humanities were not part of the UGC list of approved degrees.

But the VC and Registrar argued that movement against FYUP was inspired by Left political groups and other vested interests who should not be taken seriously. However, they are learnt to have been told that decision to scrap FYUP was final.

Singh was asked to comply with UGC's Sunday order immediately. It was decided that till compliance comes from DU, every two hours UGC will fax the directive to VC's office.

Girls' hostel at PUC inaugurated

The girls hostel inaugurated on Monday

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, June 30: A tribal girls' hostel at Pachhunga University College here was inaugurated by Lok Sabha member C L Ruala during a special function at the college campus today morning.

The Senhri ST Girls Hostel was constructed at the cost of Rs 364 lakh funded by the ministry of affairs. It was constructed by North East Consultancy Services (NECS)

Local MLA, R Vanlalvena, Mizoram University (MZU) vice-chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga, MZU registrar Zothankhuma, MZU controller of examinations Dr R L Thanmawia and other officials attended the function.

Ruala said as he is the state's representative to the central government, he is ready to assist state officials in drawing funds from the central pool. He felt that the officials and experts should be more proactive in seeking available funds from the Centre.

"However," he reiterated, "no project can be submitted to the central ministry without the approval of the nodal departments here."

NECS chief managing director Robert Romawia Royte was also present in the function. Incidentally, Royte was the lone opponent of Ruala in the recent elections to the Lok Sabha, who accused the sitting MP of not doing enough to get funds from the Centre.

Royte, in his technical report, said that the building is an earthquake resistant, constructed from June 20, 2012 and completed on June 19, 2014 without revising the estimated cost. The building sits on 1688.70 square metre area, has 51 rooms, five toilet blocks, chowkidar quarters, kitchen, dining hall, two water tanks - each 83700 litres capacity - and three overhead water tanks each 9000 litres capacity and 100-seater multipurpose hall. It is a two-storey building, excluding the ground floor and basement.

PUC principal Dr Tawnenga informed the few seats are vacant in the college's girls' and boys' hostels.

Messy turnaround

If FYUP was illegal, why the UGC released funds for it last year is a question that begs an answer.

When push came to shove, even the Congress did not back Delhi University's controversial Four Year Undergraduate Programme (FYUP), and the varsity's administration was left to defend on its own a decision that was, clearly, taken for it by the United Progressive Alliance Government a little over a year ago. Successive Human Resource Development Ministers from the Congress had batted for FYUP, and the University administration — with probably some conviction about its merits and the full backing of the University Grants Commission (UGC) — rammed it down on a university system ill-prepared to deal with such a major change in course structure. What took The University of Hong Kong with an undergraduate student strength of 15,000 seven years to do, Delhi University did in a few months for an annual intake of over 50,000 students at the undergraduate level. Acting as the hand-maiden of the government of the day, the UGC looked the other way as the University rushed through the switch from the decades-old three-year programme. A year later, the UGC again donned the hand-maiden-of-the-government role when a new political dispensation wanted FYUP out. So it is not just the University that has egg on its face. The UGC also has a lot to answer for, given how it arm-twisted the University to roll back FYUP for falling foul of the law. If FYUP was illegal, why the UGC released funds for it last year is a question that begs an answer.

The flip-flop over FYUP has raised questions about university autonomy, but had Delhi University gone through the necessary procedures mandated in the Delhi University Act, 1922, the government would not have been able to bulldoze it so easily. The government's bid to scrap FYUP gained traction only when it became evident that the University had not secured the Visitor's nod for the change. And when it went for the jugular with the UGC acting as a tool, the University administration found itself isolated as it had over the past year failed to consult all the stakeholders, address their concerns or even consider their suggestion to defer FYUP by a year. While some bitter critics of FYUP concede merits in the pro-change argument, that the University needs to make its students more employable with courses that are in line with international standards, their contention is that this cannot be done overnight without putting in place the necessary infrastructure, having enough teachers and preparing proper course content. There was a general consensus that the foundation course syllabus was sub-standard and school-level. If anything, the controversy offers a lesson to the current government which is working to the mantra of "speed" along with skill and scale. Fast-tracking decisions without taking on board multiple factors can only set the clock back.
