JNU Row: People can rap government, not abuse nation, says Kiren Rijiju

New Delhi, Feb 18: With the Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) row continuing unabated, Union minister Kiren Rijiju today said people are free to criticise the government but cannot abuse the nation.

In a Facebook post, Mr Rijiju said a group of people in Jawaharlal Nehru University have taken a "despicable vow to break India into pieces" and declared Parliament attack convict Afzal Guru as their hero.

He said a group of politicians have defended the actions of "these anti-national elements".

"As an Indian, the foremost requirement is allegiance to the unity and integrity of India. Anyone can criticise the government but don't abuse the nation," Mr Rijiju said.

The Minister of State for Home said despite massive condemnation from patriotic citizens, they are still proud of their "atrocious act".

"These people are so firmly indoctrinated in their ideology that their hatred for India is subsumed in their freedom of expression. I won't succeed in making them patriotic citizens," he said.

Mr Rijiju said there is just one solution left to this issue and such "pseudo students and politicians" should live with the soldiers in 16,000 feet altitude for one year or see the conditions of the widows of martyrs who gave their lives for the nation.

"That will make them understand what love for motherland means," he said.

Hoisting Tricolour to be made compulsory at Central Universities

New Delhi, Feb 18: Flying the national flag prominently has now become the new norm for all central universities. The decision was taken at a meeting between Union Human Resources Development Minister Smriti Irani and vice-chancellors of 46 central universities today.

The government claims it is not a "top-down" order but one the vice-chancellors proposed themselves.

One of the 12 resolutions taken at the meeting was that hoisting national flag in colleges will become "compulsory", said Harish Chandra Singh Rathore, the vice-chancellor of South Bihar university.

"To encourage love for your country you should hoist the national flag," he added.

Sources tell NDTV that the HRD minister asked why there shouldn't be flags on campus like the one at Delhi's Connaught Place. The giant flag at the heart of Delhi was the brainchild of Congress lawmaker and industrialist Naveen Jindal.

The decision comes amid the huge crisis over the raising of anti-national slogans at an event at Delhi's prestigious Jawaharlal Nehru University and the subsequent arrest of its student union leader Kanhaiya Kumar.

Mr Kumar, journalists and students have been beaten up by lawyers in the premises of a Delhi court during the hearing of his bail plea.

Right now, there are innovation clubs in Pachhunga University College and Govt Zirtiri Residential Science College, and soon the Incubation Centre is to be set up at Mizoram University.

Rahul Gandhi resolute in his support to JNU students

New Delhi, Feb 24: Brushing aside the apprehensions of some senior party leaders on debating the question of nationalism in Parliament, Congress vice president Rahul Gandhi is adamant on challenging the BJP government over the ongoing unrest at Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU), a controversy that pitted left-leaning and centrist political forces against the rightwing formations.

Apart from expressing his concern over the rising interference of the rightwing ideology as espoused by RSS in the country's higher education sector, Mr.Gandhi made a strong case before the Congress Working Committee members on Monday that the party should defend the "integrity" of JNU by standing up for the students who have been facing the charges of sedition.

Sources in Congress said that some senior leaders had "briefed" the party president Sonia Gandhi about the possibility of facing a blowback if they put the spotlight on the JNU row in the Parliament.

But the senior Congress leader and deputy leader of the Opposition at Rajya Sabha, Anand Sharma, told The Hindu that the entire Congress leadership is confident about its stand on the JNU crisis.

Mr.Sharma said the "doctored videos as alleged" that show the JNU student leader Kanhaiya Kumar chanting anti-national slogans "exposes" the BJP government.

"The proof against Kanhaiya is not coming out," said Mr.Sharma. "The government is busy spreading misinformation and character assassination...how can they get away from that?"

Seminar on "Indigeneity: Expression and Experience"

OUR REPORTER
AIZAWL, FEB 25

A two day International Seminar on "Indigeneity: Expression and Experience" organized by the Department of English, Mizoram University under DRS-SAP-I was inaugurated today at the University Administrative Conference Hall. The seminar which would continue till 26 February was graced by Prof. R Lalthantluanga, Vice Chancellor MZU as chief guest while Padma Shree Lalthangfala Sailo was the guest of honour. Addressing the seminar, Lalthangfala Sailo talked on the topic "Indigenous People with special reference to Mizoram" and elaborated the history of the Indigenous Mizo tribes.

He also spoke of North East India and said that finding the ultimate solution of the problems of the indigenous people of North East India is a big question of the day. In the first session of the Seminar, Esterine Kire, Poet and Novelist, and also winner of The Hindu Prize in 2015, currently based in Northern Norway where she concentrates on her writing of the Indigenous Naga tribe and performs jazz poetry with her band- Jazzpoesi, took the floor during a plenary session. She shared her inspiration and love for Nigerian and Kenyan writers and spoke of the background stories to many of her books and poem. She attributes her gratitude to the oral story tellers and showed concern on many of the stories and history of the indigenous tribes of the North East saying "we have kind of acceptance of their narratives." She also encouraged participants to take pride in "who we are and not to blindly accept the definition of 'Us' by others".

21 Paper presentations will be made by various scholars from different parts of the country at the ongoing seminar.

Steps to check discrimination and harassment in Central Universities

NEW DELHI, FEB 25

A Conference of Vice Chancellors of Central Universities was held on February 18, 2016 whereby all the Vice Chancellors and senior Officers of the Central Universities have been asked to be more vigilant & put a proper system in place to ensure that the students from these categories are not put to any disadvantage/ hardship. The Vice Chancellors have inter-alia agreed to appoint Anti-Discrimination Officer as provided in UGC (Promotion of Equity in Higher Education, Institutions) Regulations, 2012. The National Policy on Education, 1986 lays special emphasis on the removal of disparities and to equalize educational opportunity by attending to the specific needs of those who have been denied equality so far. The Central Universities are autonomous bodies which are governed by their own Acts and Statutes, Ordinances and Regulations made thereunder. The Acts of the respective Central Universities, stipulate that the university shall not discriminate on grounds of caste, religion, etc. The Central Universities are competent to take all administrative decisions including to prevent all kinds of harassment and discrimination against any section of students. The Government of India and University Grants Commission (UGC) have also taken several initiatives to check the incidents of harassment of all students, including the Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, in the higher educational institutions of the country. Major initiatives undertaken are as below:

Mizo students 'burn down' school

Remains of Tuichawngchhuah school

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Feb 26: Mizo Students Union (MSU) activists allegedly burnt down a primary school at Chakma-inhabited Tuichawng Chhuah village, which is said to be an illegal settlement, in Lunglei district in southern Mizoram.

Condemning the incident, the Mizoram Chakma Alliance Against Discrimination (MCAAD) said it would approach AICC president Sonia Gandhi.

The MSU members also allegedly demolished a house belonging to Chakma family at the village in an attempt to force the 49 Chakma minority families to vacate the village.

Contrary to the MSU's allegations, MCAAD claimed that the Chakma families have been living at Tuichawng Chhuah for over four decades and the government of Mizoram has extended all the facilities including school, assistance under New Land Use Policy, ration card, voter cards, electricity etc.

• However, on December 17, 2015, additional deputy commissioner, Lunglei district, Mizoram issued eviction notice to 49 Chakma minority families of Tuichawng Chhuah to vacate the village. A writ petition No. WP(C) 134/2016 was filed before the Guwahati High Court which in its order dated 08.01.2016 stayed the eviction order of the Mizoram government," the MCAAD statement said.

The burning down of the primary school and demolition of a house at Tuichawng Chhuah village in Lunglei district is a contempt of the Guwahati High Court order dated 8 January 2016, it said.

"There is no doubt that the chief secretary of Mizoram and other senior officials are liable for the contempt of the court and violence committed by the MSU including burning down of the school at Tuichawng Chhuah." stated Paritosh Chakma, president of Mizoram Chakma Alliance Against Discrimination (MCAAD).

"The Mizoram government has totally failed to protect the Chakma minorities despite the order of the Guwahati High Court. We shall be raising the issue with Congress President Sonia Gandhi who has been raising the rights of minorities in India as to what the Congress government has been doing for persecution of the minorities in Mizoram" he said in the statement.

Arrested students' leaders released

Bureau Report

Aizawl, Feb 28:

Tension cooled down in Lunglei and Aizawl after an unconditional release of Mizo Students' Union (MSU) activists arrested in connection with the torching of a school in a Chakma-inhabited hamlet in Lunglei district on Friday.

The chief judicial magistrate of Lunglei district late on Saturday afternoon unconditionally released four MSU president P C Lalrinhlua and three other MSU general headquarters (Aizawl) leaders and four leaders of MSU Lunglei regional headquarters. The release came after large number of people gathered in front of Chakma House in Lunglei and the police station, demanding their release, even as co-ordination committee of NGOs, comprising of MSU, Young Mizo Association, Mizo Upa Pawl (senior citizens), Mizo Hmeichhe Insuihkhawm Pawl (women organisation) Mizo Zirlai Pawl (Mizo students association), ZoRO (Zo Re-unification Organisation) and Prism, issued a strongly-worded statement demanding unconditional release of the arrested student leaders.

The MSU leaders had been charged under sections 436, 426 and 34 of IPC.

As reported on Saturday, a primary school at Tuichawngchhuah hamlet, said to be an illegal settlement, was torched on Friday afternoon when MSU leaders were there to "take stock of the situation" after the Lunglei district administration had issued "eviction order."

While a group called the Mizoram Chakma Alliance Against Discrimination (MCAAD) alleged that the school was torched by the MSU activists, the MSU said it was the other way round. "The school was burnt while the MSU leaders were there to make it appear that the MSU leaders burnt it," said a statement of MSU.

The MSU, supported by Mizo organisations, said that Tuichawngchhuah, near Tuichawng village in western part of Lunglei district, was illegally set up by Chakma migrants. The students' union had even issued a diktat to the inhabitants to leave before December last year.

On December 17, 2015, additional deputy commissioner of Lunglei district issued eviction notice to the 49 Chakma families of Tuichawng Chhuah to vacate the hamlet. A Chakma group challenged the eviction order in the Gauhati High Court which issued a stay order dated January 8.

Meanwhile, NGOs' coordination committee in Aizawl comprising of YMA, MUP, MHIP, MZP and MSU called off the proposed protest rally on Monday after the unconditional release of the students' leaders.

JNU Students Union to march to Parliament

New Delhi, March 1: Stepping up their agitation against arrest of Jawaharlal Nehru University Students Union (JNUSU) president Kanhaiya Kumar and two others in a sedition case, the students will march to Parliament tomorrow demanding the release of those jailed in the case.

"We are going to hold a solidarity march to Parliament tomorrow to protest the stifling of dissent in JNU, Hyderabad university and elsewhere through sedition charges," JNUSU vice president Shehla Rashid Shora.

The protest march which will be joined by academicians and students from various universities across Delhi, will begin from Mandi House area at 2 pm tomorrow.

"We want to take up our issues with the PMO, MHRD and the Home Minister. We will also be approaching the NHRC and the Minority Commission to register our concerns at the functioning of the Delhi Police and the continuing threats of physical violence against Kanhaiya, Umar and Anirban," she added.

The students have been agitating on campus ever since Kanhaiya Kumar was arrested in a sedition case in connection with an event against hanging of Parliament attack convict Afzal Guru.

Following Kanhaiya Kumar's arrest- five students who were being searched by police in the case- Umar, Khalid, Anirban Bhattacharya, Ashutosh Kumar, Anant Prakash and Rama Naga- had gone into hiding fearing "moblynching".

They resurfaced back on campus 10 days later. While Umar Khalid and Anirban Bhattacharya surrendered before the police, the remaining three refused to do so but maintained that they are open to questioning by police as and when needed.

"Our major demands include release of the three students, revoking sedition charges and the varsity suspension order," the JNUSU vice president said.

The students are also demanding resignation of HRD Minister Smriti Irani alleging that she "misused powers" and "peddled lies" regarding the row at JNU and Hyderabad University where a Dalit scholar - Rohith Vemula- was found hanging in a hostel room.

"We want the government to enact a 'Rohith Act' to end caste based discrimination in universities and educational institutions," she added.

Seminar, symposium at Mizoram University

Staff Reporter
Aizawl, Mar 2:

Mizoram University, in collaboration with Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts and Teri - The Energy and Resources Institute, is currently organising a workshop on 'Sustainable Management of Indigenous Knowledge a North East Perspective'. At the Inaugural function, special address was delivered by Veena Joshi, member secretary (in-charge), Indira Gandhi National Centre for the Arts and the presidential address was delivered by Prof Lalthantluanga, vice chancellor, Mizoram University.

The main objective of this workshop is to understand the management and preservation of traditional cultural knowledge, the means and ways to store the tacit and explicit knowledge, the sharing of information used by indigenous people for national and cultural management, to implement programmes to collect, preserve and disseminate indigenous and local traditional knowledge resources, to make available and promote information resources which support research and learning about indigenous and local traditional knowledge, its importance and use in modern society and lastly to communicate and increase the outreach and publicize the value, contribution, and importance of indigenous and local traditional knowledge to both non-indigenous and indigenous people.

Participants of the workshop consisted of research scholars from arts, sociology and cultural, science disciples, academicians, practitioners and policy makers.

Meanwhile, a two-day symposium on 'communication for peace and non-violence, jointly organised by Mizoram University's mass communication department and Gandhi Smriti and Darshan Samiti, New Delhi, concluded today at the Mizoram University administration conference hall.

Several resource persons from central universities in the Northeast presented interesting papers on the role of media in maintaining peace and communal harmony and the concept of conflict reporting.

Dr Suwalal Jangu, from Mizoram University, presented paper on the role of media in the promotion of 'Non-violence Communication: A Gandhian Perspective', while Dr Muthulakshmi and Prof Devendan presented paper on 'Role of Shakti Sena in Gandhian Perspective: An Overview'.

Kamaljit Chiram, from NEHU Shillong, presented paper on the "Use of Shumang Leela in Promoting peace in the Northeast". Dr Alfrid Hussain presented papers on Media and Conflict Reporting in Northeast India on the second day of the symposium today.

This was followed by a lively interaction of students and three Aizawl-based journalists, H C Vanlalruata (PTI correspondent), Zodin Sanga (UNI correspondent/Newslink) and Maisawmzuala Vanchhawng (from DDK Aizawl).

Aizawl, Mar 8: The Mizo Hmeichhe Insuihkhawm Pawl, the state's apex women body, alone has registered 130 domestic violence cases during the last few years.

Giving a report at International Women's Day function at social welfare department's conference hall here today, MHIP vice-president Dr Thanpui said 73 of them were referred to police women cells.

Not mentioning the period, she said the organisation also referred 45 domestic incidence reports to courts of which 42 have been disposed. The organisation also received 55 maintenance claims and eight rape cases.

It may be noted that there are other agencies that received domestic violence cases, and a number of cases that went unreported. So, the actual cases of violence against women in Mizoram are much higher than these figures given.

The MHIP and other women organisations have hailed the Mizoram Marriage, Divorce and Inheritance of Property Act 2014 passed by the Mizoram assembly last year.

The function was graced by social welfare minister P C Lalthanliana, who said the government is making all-out efforts to uplift women in Mizoram. It has implemented seat women seat reservation in local bodies and enacted the Mizoram Marriage, Divorce and Inheritance of Property Act 2014, among many others. "Universal women helpline is near completion and 'one stop center for women' would come up soon," he said.

"The government is making efforts to achieve gender equality by 2030, which is the theme of this year International Women's Day - Planet 50-50 by 2030: Step It Up for Gender Equality," he said.

The function was chaired by social welfare joint secretary K Vanlalrawni, and assistant director Chuauzikpuii gave a welcome address.

Young poets' fest at MZU

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Mar 15:

Mizoram University in collaboration with the Sahitya Akademi, New Delhi, started organising a two-day Poetry Festival for Young Mizo Poets at Mizoram University auditorium today.

Lalthangfala Sailo, Padma Shree awardee, was the chief guest and he inaugurated the festival while Dr H. Kamkhenhang, director NECOL was the guest of honour. The objectives of the festival are to initiate the process of showcasing to the general public and the rest of the world for the first time, the growing talent among the younger generation of Mizo Poets writing in the vernacular, who are making their voices heard through the world of the internet.

Another objective is to publish a bi-lingual volume of these unpublished works/voices under the prestigious banner of Sahitya Akademi in order to facilitate and bring forth more new talent from Mizoram, whose presence has been almost non-existent so far, in the current scenario of poetry writing from the North East region.

Though poetry writing in Mizo has been in place for many decades now, young contemporary Mizo poets have dared to move out of the influence of Euro-Centric as well as old traditional song forms, an established niche created by the predecessors. Their choice of themes, form (if any), language, approach and so on have now begun to create a whole new trend which contains more freedom and flexibility.

Welcome speech was delivered by Dr Lalthmasai Chuaungo, Dean, School of Education & Humanities. Prof Margaret Ch Zama delivered the keynote address, and the program was concluded with a vote of thanks by the programme coordinator, Prof R L Thanmawia.

Horticulture should be given thrust: Guv

Bureau Reporter
Aizawl, Mar 16:

Mizoram Governor Lt Gen (rtd) Nirbhay Sharma said today that horticulture activities should be given a major thrust in Mizoram to achieve higher productivity in farming.

Speaking at a closing ceremony of a three-day symposium on sustainable horticulture at Aijal Club here today, the Governor said even tough Mizoram terrain and soil are not very conducive for growing paddy, there is a huge potential for horticulture.

"As 70 percent of the state population depend on agriculture and allied sectors, horticulture which is suitable for Mizoram geographical conditions, should be given a major thrust to achieve self-sufficiency in agriculture," he said.

Organised by the department of horticulture, aromatics and medicinal plants, Mizoram University, the symposium was inaugurated by Prof K L Chadha, president of the Horticulture Society of India, and former DDG (Horti) and National Professor, ICAR, at the Mizoram University auditorium on March 14.

Participants include central government officials, and horticulturists from around 15 countries including USA, Canada, Mauritius, Australia, Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, New Zealand and India. The participants would be taken around to horticulture gardens in and around Aizawl from Thursday.

The Governor talked of the need to expand the areas covered by horticulture activities in order to meet the state's consumption for a year.

Under the state government's flagship programme, 10 different horticulture trades such as grape, mandarin orange, passion fruit, pineapple, squash, ateca nut, tung mango and tea cultivation have been taken up, the Governor said.

In all, 23,886 families have been covered with total financial assistance of Rs. 205.16 crores. Efforts are also taken to cover a cultivated area of 668 hectares with drip and micro/mini sprinkler irrigation system under National Mission for Sustainable Agriculture (NMSA).

The state government is establishing a Horticulture College at Thenzawl, Serchhip district and classes for 1st batch of B. Sc Horticulture will be started in the ensuing new academic session at Veterinary College, at Selesih near here, which is affiliated to the Central Agriculture University, Imphal.

"With all these efforts, it's a matter of time before the state become self-sufficient in horticultural products," the Governor expressed his hope.

The Governor also stressed the need to check climate change and the increasing global warming. "We should not be content at becoming self-sufficient in agriculture/horticulture. We should maintain the ecological balance and preserve the environment at the same time," he added.

The state's flagship programme New Land Use Policy has a dual purpose of providing sustainable economy to the farmers and preserving the environment by keeping the green forest intact.

The Governor also urged that various suggestions made in the symposium should not end in the symposium itself, but must be imparted to the farmers.

During the symposium, horticulture experts presented 70 papers on seven selected topics.

The closing ceremony was chaired by Prof A C Shukla, head of department of horticulture, aromatic & medicinal plants, MZU. R Zotawna, director of Mizoram's horticulture department and Dr George Szrednicki, from School of chemical Engineering, Food, Science & Technology, University of New South Wales, Sydney, also delivered speeches.

New initiative to improve Mizoram students' career prospects

School education minister H Rohluna speaks at the launch of TIST on Thursday

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, March 17:

The Mizoram government has tied up with the Tata Institute of Social Sciences (TISS) to introduce 'Connected Learning Initiative' (CLix) in 200 high schools to improve professional and academic prospects of students.

The CLix is a collaborative effort of TISS, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in the US and the Tata Trusts.

"The Mizoram government has recently signed a memorandum of understanding with TISS to introduce the CLix in 200 high schools in the state to advance the professional and academic prospects of high school students," Gen Sharma said while addressing the state assembly.

Tata Trusts, a philanthropic organisation in the area of community and educational development, in January tied up with the US's MIT and TISS and launched the CLix, an online-learning platform.

The new programme aims to create new learning experiences and educational opportunities for secondary school students in India.

An official of Mizoram education department said that over 1,000 schools across four Indian states — Mizoram, Telangana, Rajasthan, and Chhattisgarh — have agreed to participate in CLix, allowing it to reach an estimated 165,000 students by 2018-19.

Meanwhile, another initiative Total Information on Schools and Teachers (TIST) was launched by chief minister Lal Thanhawla at the Assembly House's recess room today. With TIST, information regarding schools and teachers will be made available to the public.

This too is a joint venture with TISS.

Speaking at the launching function, school education minister H Rohluna said that with the TIST software one will be able to get detail information on school — number of students, number of teachers and their names and the school's academic records.

The software will be designed by TISS.

The minister said Mizoram is among four states where TIST would be taken up as pilot project, and the only state from Northeast India.

MSU proud of Mizoram University

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Apr 7:

Mizoram University is ranked 51th in the latest ranking of Indian universities by the ministry of Human Resource Development.

Mizo Students' Union, in a press release today, said it is proud of the Mizoram University, established only in 2001, figured in the top 100 universities among 3500 universities across India.

"This is a proud moment for the people of Mizoram," the release said.

The MSU attributed the university's achievement to the hard work of its vice-chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga, teaching and non-teaching staff. The MSU encouraged them to continue the efforts.

The 'India Rankings 2016' has been released by the Union Human Resource Development Minister Smriti Irani on Monday at Vigyan Bhawan. According to newspaper reports, this is the first-of-its-kind indigenous ranking framework for higher education institutions, which has come out with a list of top 100 universities and institutes of engineering, management and pharmacy in the country.

The National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF) has put IIT Madras on the top spot, as the topmost engineering college, followed by IIT Mumbai and IIT Kharagpur. The top management institution is IIM Bangalore, while Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore is the best university in India.

The Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) and the University of Hyderabad have also made the cut in the list of best universities of India. While the JNU has been ranked third, Hyderabad University has been named fourth best institute. Both Hyderabad Central University and JNU were in the news over the death of Rohith Vemula and the sedition row.

All 122 centrally-funded institutions - including all central universities, IITs and IIMs - participated in the first round of ranking. The framework is primarily divided into two categories: Category A covered institutions with academic autonomy and a greater focus on research. Category B comprised colleges and centres affiliated to a university and more focused on teaching. An institution can volunteer to be ranked in both categories.

Parameters for ranking the universities are:

Teaching Learning & Resources: These parameters are related to the core activities of any place of learning.

Research Professional Practice & Collaborative Performance: Excellence in teaching and learning is closely associated with the scholarship

Graduation Outcome: This parameter forms the ultimate test of the effectiveness of the core teaching/learning

Outreach & Inclusivity: The Ranking framework lays special emphasis on representation of women

Perception: The ranking methodology gives a significant importance to the perception of the institution

Vibro week begins in Mizoram University

Kimi Colney

Aizawl, Apr 18:

Today marks the start of the most awaited week in Mizoram University, Vibrio 2016, organised by Mizoram University Students Council.

VIBRIO is a yearly festival that goes on for a five-day period from Monday through Friday with various activities such as debate, quiz, runway fashion show, writing, photography and more organized to create a fun and healthy competition among the students. The theme of Vibrio is 'Lets Unite' with all the functions and activities carried out with the sole purpose of creating a sense of unity and belonging among the students.

The opening ceremony started at 10:30 am with K. Lalnunhlima, vice-president, MZUSC as the host. The chief guest, Prof Lalnuntluanga, Dean of Students Welfare, gave an opening address talking of the hard work that went behind the Vibrio week and how Mizoram University has progressed through the years.

Prof Lalnuntluanga said, "We should educate ourselves not just to seek government jobs but to stand on one's own feet." The students' council president Vanlaltana Khiangte also gave a speech mentioning how many new events have been introduced for this year's Vibrio among which are the cultural day and No Vehicle Zone.

The kick-off event of Vibrio week was a marathon event started at 7 am with around 44 participants. The other events that followed were debate competition, quiz, essay writing and 5 on 5 football.

In this year's Vibrio week, there will be a cultural day for the first time in the event's history which will take place on Day 2 of the festival. The cultural day will be attended by students in full traditional attire and there will be cultural dance competition followed by an event of chhawngnawh (stuffing boiled eggs into each other's mouth, part of traditional Chapchar Kut festival) and chai (cultural dance) in the evening.

The Vibrio week will also have a No Vehicle Zone in the MZU campus. There will be separate parking spots allotted for two-wheeler, motor vehicles, LMV sand buses so there is room for walking and greater chance for communal unity.

US consul general makes maiden visit

State Reporter

Aizawl, Apr 22: U S

Consul General Craig Hall is on his maiden visit to Mizoram to familiarize the state that falls under his jurisdiction. He arrived here Thursday and will leave on Saturday.

During an interaction of Mizoram University faculties and students today, Hall highlighted several key elements of the US-India relationship which seeks to build a 21st century alliance for global prosperity. He emphasised regional connectivity, cross-border trade and security, health and education as pillars of the US-India strategic partnership.

Hall started his trip learning about Mizoram's economic opportunities, meeting with diverse members of the business community in roundtable interaction lead by Confederation of Indian Industry (CII), Mizoram office and the Mizoram Chamber of Industry.

Graig Hall (centre on the dais) interacts with faculties and students of Mizoram University on Friday

The US Consul General made a courtesy call on chief minister Lal Thanhawla and Governor Lt General Nirbhay Sharma and had positive discussions on the future of US-India relations with an emphasis on Mizoram role.

Hall discussed "The US-India Relationship: Building on Higher Education & Economic Connectivity" with students of Mizoram University.

Interacting with the press on the sidelines of this event, Consul General Craig Hall noted, "US and India are working together on some of the greatest challenges facing the globe from climate change to health security, education, science and technology. It is a great time to a US diplomat in India, as relations between our two countries have never been stronger and are expanding at a very quick pace."

As part of his outreach Consul General Craig Hall also interacted with diverse members of the civil society, including alumni of US state department-funded exchange programs who discussed the social, political and cultural context of Mizoram.

MZU should focus on skill development: Guv

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Apr 27:

Mizoram Governor Lt Gen (rtd) Nirbhay Sharma today urged the Mizoram University to focus on skill development, organic farming, environment and traditional medicines.

Even though all subjects are important, I want the university to give focus these subjects are better suited for Mizoram today, the Governor and chief rector of the Mizoram University said as he addressed the varsity's 11th convocation at its Tanhril campus.

Being the highest seat of education in Mizoram, Mizoram University has a great role to play in the development of the state beyond formal education, he stated.

The Governor handed over degrees to 3855, including 3,113 in absentia, during the convocation. There were 53 Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D) degrees and 38 gold medalists.

The Governor said education does not end in receiving degrees, as the new graduates will meet greater challenges as they walk out of colleges and universities. "You can be key players for the overall development of the society," he urged the students.

The convocation had former Rajya Sabha member and Padma Bhusan awardee Prof Mrinal Miri, as chief guest. Prof Miri, who gave an interesting lecture on 'The Nation and Its Northeast', emphasised the important role played by the Northeast region in India's unity in diversity.

"As the rest of Indians need to know about unique cultures and traditions of the Northeast people to make them feel Indian, the Northeast people too should remember that they are part of the body of India without which the body can't survive," the professor said.

Meanwhile, sources said today that Mizoram University and Minnesota University will continue their cooperation under the Mizoram government's flagship programme New Land Used Policy (NLUP) and research will be conducted on Mizoram's wild mushroom at Minnesota University Laboratory.

Dr Karlyn Eckman of the University said that the cooperation between the two since 2013 till date has been producing good result and that considering the system of working of the two universities as the best model, Minnesota University has decided to use the MZU-Minnesota University model for their future initiatives in different parts of the world.

He also said that MZU has already made plans for follow-up steps and for new steps, the cooperation is to be continued smoothly.

Emergent identities in literature

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, May 9: A

compilation of articles titled "Emergent Identities in Literature" published by Headword, New Delhi, was released by Mizoram University vice-chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga at his office chamber today.

The book has been the outcome of a national seminar held in March 2015, on 'Emergent Identities: Its Literary Representations' and has been edited by Prof Margaret L Pachuau and Dr Thongam Dhanajit Singh of the department of English, Mizoram University. The book has a total of 19 articles, from select paper presenters across India, that denote that identities are never permanent, never static, but always in flux, always in negotiation and formation and hence always emergent or emerging. It debates on the aspect that in our emergent moments our identities seem to be all, our academic and literary objective seems to be to give life to our political ambitions, to find ourselves as a community. This even as we accept that we may have more than one identity, and that our identities may actually make a singularity, the identities becoming our identity, the plural being subsumed into the unique, however contingent it may be.

This stimulating collection of papers has an especial focus on Mizoram but other papers cover the representation of Jews, the Portuguese settlement in western India, the Barak Valley, tea plantation labourers, characters in Mahashweta Devi's works, Bengali Dalits, Arab women, cyborgs, in fact such a variety of emerging identities that it is clear that the politics of representation has to be viewed through a wide lens, that goes beyond the local and actually sees the various locals in terms of the new global. This collection looks at the complications of identity politics, the necessity for it and its limitations.

1. Women study centre at MZU

Staff Reporter
Aizawl, May 17:
Women's Study Centre at Mizoram University was today inaugurated by the university's vice-chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga.

Traditional dance, group recitation and singing were performed by representatives of MHIP (Mizo women association) branches of Tanhril, Sakawrtuichhun and Tuivamit localities during the inaugural function. Speech on women's studies was delivered by Prof Srinivas Pathi, Dean, School of Social Sciences and Dr T Vanlaltiani, Professor, ATC.

Lalbiakimi, membership, Mizoram State Commission for Women; Dr R Lalnunmawii, superintendent, Protective Home, DSW; Dr Thanpuil, vice-president, MHIP general headquarters and Lian Sangluri, representative of AMWF, delivered a short speech and spoke of their gratitude for the establishment of the Women's Study Center and highlighted various avenues in which to uplift the status and conditions of women in Mizoram.

In India, the University Grants Commission (UGC) started the strengthening programme of women's study since the VII Plan Period. The XI Plan took a boarder view of women studies to support upgradation of the WSC in universities and colleges in teaching and research projects. Knowing the interest of UGC for empowerment of women through education and special study on women plus looking at the condition and the need of women in Mizoram, the Panchayat Mahila Shakti Abhiyan (PMSA) Core Committee, at the Public Administration Department Office, Mizoram University, resolved to submit application to the Vice Chancellor of Mizoram University for the establishment of Women's Study Centre under the University.

In return, the Committee was asked to submit a proposal to the University authority, which was then forwarded to the University Grants Commission for consideration.

After seven years, because of the vision and hard work of the PMSA Core Committee and contributions made by officials in the University, UGC and Govt. Sector, the Women's Study Centre has now become a reality and will soon run as a full fledged center at the University Campus.

Science best option to remove poverty: Guv

Bureau Report

Aizawl, July 24:

Mizoram Governor Lt Gen (rtd) Nirbhay Sharma, while addressing the first convocation of NIT Mizoram here Saturday, stressed the importance of science to break the shackles of poverty in the state.

"Even though the state has rich natural resources, majority of the people still live in poverty. Nothing is more important than science and technology to elevate us from this poverty," Sharma said.

The Governor urged fresh engineering graduates to be entrepreneurship-minded than just being mere white-collar job seekers, and try to create job opportunities to others. This, he believed, would improve the state's economy to a great extent.

Congratulating the students, their parents and their teachers for the good results, the Governor said the people of Mizoram as a whole are fortunate to have what is considered to be India's best technology institute, which importance and value should not be undermined. He encouraged the existing class 12 students to work hard to be able to get through JEE (MAIN) so that as many local students as possible are admitted into the NIT Mizoram.

The Governor expressed his desires that the NIT Mizoram campus under construction at Lengpui be made a "green campus", by keeping the biodiversity surrounding the campus intact. He hoped that making Lengpui an "adopted village" would prove beneficial for Lengpui.

It may be noted that Lengpui has been declared polythene bags free village by the people. As many as 108 students were conferred engineering degrees in the first convocation.

Companies like Tech Mahindra, Infosys, TCS, L&T, IBM, NSE, HP, Wipro, Nile stream, Bespoke, Polaris Fin Tech, Reinspire tech, KEC Int, have conducted job interviews in the campus through which 67 percent from 2010 batch and 77 percent from 2011 batch were given job placements in their final year.

NIT Mizoram is one of the 30 National Institutes of Technology in India. It was one of the ten new NITS established by the Ministry of HRD in 2010.

Under the patronage of NIT Nagpur, NIT Mizoram started admitting students from the academic session 2010-11 with an intake of 63 students three engineering branches - electrical & electronics engineering, electronics & communication and computer science & engineering.

Mechanical engineering course started three years later while civil engineering course was taken up four years later.

Presently, it offers bachelor of technology courses in these five engineering branches. It offers Ph D course in physics, chemistry, mathematics, humanities and social science subjects, besides the said five branches.

Each branch has 30 seat capacity of which 50 percent are reserved for local students who passed through joint entrance examination (JEE) Main.

NIT Mizoram campus was initially planned in Thenzawl. It was later shifted to a place located near Lengpui Airport, about 40 kms from Aizawl.

The institute is currently functioning in a temporary campus in the city of Aizawl with one administrative block and four academic blocks at Chaltiang, three hostel blocks at Tanhril and one hostel block at Zemabawk.

MZU joins national workshop

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Aug 24:

With the objective of engaging Indian Youth with the Digital India Programme, National e-Governance Division (NeGD), in collaboration with National Service Scheme (NSS) under the department of youth affairs is organising day long workshops in 100 universities across India. A pilot phase of similar workshop was conducted in 20 universities in February 2016.

NeGD division of Department of Electronics and Information Technology (Deity), in association with National Service Scheme (NSS), has planned to have 100 workshops in four batches, with one batch happening on a single day. In each workshop, 10 students (5 girls and 5 boys) from 20 affiliated colleges will participate along with the host university students. Around, 27,000 participants will be the direct beneficiaries of this Digital India workshop. They will further carry forward the message of Digital India into their communities as per workshop planned activities.

Tanhriil, MZU ultimatum on FCI godown

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Aug 26: Fed up with the government's inaction on their demand for shifting of the FCI godown at Ramrikawn along the Mizoram University (MZU) road, the MZU joint action committee and Tanhriil local leaders have served an ultimatum to the government.

"Unless there is positive action from the government within a week, we will make our own move to ensure that the FCI godown is shifted," leaders of the joint action committee said in a press conference here today.

"The Mizoram government has claimed to have taken steps (to shift the godown). We demand to tell us how far has it gone," they said.

The demand for shifting of the godown began during the previous government. Our demands seem to have fallen on deaf ears. We are deeply disappointed on the government's apathy towards our demand. If we are compelled to do what we did not intend to do, we appeal to the people to understand our cause and support us, they said.

It is not the rice godown but the trucks that create problems, the committee said.

Heavy trucks

carrying 200 quintals of loads are burden to the roads. We would not allow suck trucks to damage the road that we have won through a series of agitation in 2014, they said.

Some of these trucks are parked on the roadside for more than a month, causing traffic jam that further prevents the students and teacher to reach on time.

Due to absence of proper garbage disposal, the truckers littered the area with waste materials, which tarnish the image not only of the Mizoram University but the entire Mizoram, they said.

The government is said to have taken step to discuss the issue between the traffic management committee and the FCI. However, considering how the government neglected an earlier agreement made between the MZU authority and food, civil supplies & consumer affair director, in the presence of additional SP (traffic), O/C traffic, joint local councils of the localities along the MZU road, president MIZUTA, president MUNSA, secretary joint YMA branches of the area, inspector of food, civil supplies & consumer affairs, MTDA, IFCS, we have no more faith in the government, they said.

MZU JAC against godown

MZU Joint Action Committee said it will intensify demand for shifting of Tanhril godown. A statement issued by the JAC said all university students, teaching and non-teaching staffs will display black flag on their vehicle from Monday in protest to shift the FCI godown at Tanhril. The JAC alleged that many students and university staff could not reach classes and office in time due to traffic log jam created by heavy truck which parked at road side. It also said that the university road was in bad shape as it was heavily used by trucks that carry heavy loads while transporting rice. The JAC will convene a meeting with its partner groups on Monday to decide future course of action, the statement said.

National workshop-cum-training program on Dspace hawinnaah hian Prof. R Lalthantluanga leh INFLIBNET scientist Swapnil Patel ten thu an sawi a; September 8, 2016 thlang a aw h ang.

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Sept 6: A three-day national workshop-cum-training on 'Dspace' was kicked off at Mizoram University here today.

The inaugural function commenced with the formal welcome to all the dignitaries on the dais and participants from the various parts of the country, resource persons, colleagues, guests and students by Prof R N. Mishra, head of the department (the department's name is not mentioned in the University's PR), which was followed by welcome song presented by the first semester students of the department.

After the formal welcome, Prof R K Ngurtinkhuma gave a short speech about the activities of the department since its inception. Swapnil Patel, Scientist of the INFLIBNET Centre presented the information about the program in brief to the participants and invitees sitting over there. Further Mr. Patel made aware about the functions and services of INFLIBNET Centre in brief to the audience.

Prof R Lalthantluanga, Vice-Chancellor of the University, released two books written by Prof Pravakar Rath during the inaugural function. The function proceeded by the address of Prof. Pravakar Rath, Dean of the School and Guest of Honour of the function. In his speech, he threw some light on the thrust areas of LIS education specially related to E-resources, Digital Library and Knowledge Society.

After that Prof R Lalthantluanga addressed the audience as Chief Guest of the Function, welcomed all the dignitaries, participants & resource persons and thanked them to be a part this event. In his brief address he mentioned about the various activities initiated by the University for Academic Development, motivated the audience to take part in such training programs and thanked the Department to organize such programs and continue in future also.

At the end of the function, Dr Manoj Kumar Verma, coordinator of the workshop offered a formal vote of thanks to all including Prof. R. Lalthantluanga, Vice-Chancellor, Mizoram University without whom this event wouldn't have been possible. He thanked all the invited guests for gracing the occasion by their solemn presence and to all the participants of the workshop who were the main ingredient of this workshop.

He also thanked INFLIBNET Centre, Gandhinagar, Gujarat for providing all kind of financial and technical support to conduct such workshops in the University.

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Oct 4:

Bangladesh Minister of state for Water Resources Muhammad Nazrul Islam arrives in Aizawl today to attend a two-day international seminar on "Mizoram, Gateway to South East Asia? What needs to be done?"

He was received by Mizoram parliamentary secretary for commerce and industries Joseph Lalhimpuia at Lengpui Airport.

The seminar to be held at Mizoram University auditorium, is organised by CENERS-K and Mizoram University, supported by the Mizoram government, Confederation of Indian Industry and Numalgarh Refinery Ltd.

The aim of this international seminar is to examine the feasibility of Mizoram becoming the Gateway to S E Asia and to recommend what needs to be done for this to bear fruition, to the central and state government and civil society.

Prof Dr Aung Tun Thet, economic advisor to the President of Myanmar, is also expected to attend the seminar.

Int'l seminar on Mizoram as gateway to SE Asia

Staff Reporter
Aizawl, Oct 3: CENERS-K and Mizoram University supported by the Mizoram government, Confederation of Indian Industry and Numalgarh Refinery Ltd. will hold a two-day seminar at Mizoram University auditorium on "Mizoram Gateway to South East Asia? What needs to be done?"

This seminar is a felt need since India's "Look East Policy" has not really benefited the North-East Region in general and Mizoram in particular. In fact analyses by many experts from the North East and the rest of India indicate clearly that, the new policy of the Prime Minister of India, to "Act East" will only succeed if the states of the North East work out their own local solutions towards development and "Acting East" in a home-grown manner, thereby ensuring peoples' ownership and active participation.

The aim of this international seminar is to examine the feasibility of Mizoram becoming the Gateway to SE Asia and to recommend what needs to be done for this to bear fruition, to the "Act East" Policy it would be apparent that access routes to Myanmar, China and South East Asia, from the Northeast are either through Arunachal Pradesh, Nagaland, Manipur or Mizoram.

Of these the only state that is peaceful and likely to remain so is Mizoram. Thus connectivity to Myanmar and ASEAN, whether it is from the Northeast or from Bangladesh - Tripura would be best through Mizoram, with communication linkages to it from the other NER states - this is also the shortest route to the ASEAN countries.

In light of this background it should therefore be feasible to convince New Delhi, Bangladesh, Myanmar and the neighbouring north eastern states, that Mizoram would be the best connectivity option in the current situation. There would also be the issue of creation of value addition for goods that would be exported/ imported through this economic corridor and infrastructure development needed to facilitate Mizoram becoming the gateway to also "Look West" and interact much more closely with Bangladesh and Tripura than hitherto. They will also need the active support of Assam, Manipur, Tripura and for that matter West Bengal, and may have to modify her policies in order to make this happen.

This seminar endeavours to obtain the participation of experts from Mizoram, besides subject experts from other parts of India. Aspects that would be discussed would include connectivity, industry, energy and power, trade/commerce, transit, required value addition on primary goods, culture, ecology, border management, and security, improvement of relations and interstate relations to facilitate the same, and to solicit views, particularly of the youth, on the entire matter. Discussions on the subject would be over two days.

This seminar was conceived by CENERS-K, a premier think-tank based in eastern India to provide a forum for research discussions and debate concerning development, peace and security in the eastern hemisphere as a whole 2008, CENERS-K has organised many events, the most recent one in Bangladesh, related to economic development, national and international security, which includes energy, environment, ecology and water. These events, some held in partnership with other similar bodies, have been well attended with the active participation of governors, central ministers, chief ministers and the best known subject experts. Gen S Roychoudhury, PVS, former Chief of Army Staff is the patron of CENERS-K and the membership consists of researchers and very senior scholars and experts from defence, academia, industry, former bureaucrats, police officers and journalists.

The vice chancellor of Mizoram University, the joint registrar and the dean and the professors of the school of social sciences of the university have been very supportive and have gladly agreed to partner CENERS-K in this venture and have actively participated in the process of planning of the event.

extremely supportive and have been consulted and advised on the plans for conduct of this seminar. They have in fact advised the coordinators of the seminar and given their inputs on various aspects which have been incorporated.

The CII and NRL have readily agreed to partner CENERS-K and MZU in conduct of this event. CII through its active support would have speakers offering advice on what need to be done from the Mizoram perspective with reference to industry, while NRL would apprise the audience on the realities of oil and gas in Mizoram. Minister of state for MEA, Gen V K Singh has been extremely supportive of CENERS-K efforts and has kindly consented to come and address the audience.

Other representatives from the government of India include the advisor to the MHA on the North-east, Amitabh Mahur, IAS (Retd), representatives from the MEA and ministry of shipping, road transport and highways, An MP from Tripura and the chairman of the Tripura Industrial development Corporation would also attend. Professors from other universities of the north-east have also been invited.

Bangladesh has been extremely supportive as they have been in the past. The minister of state for foreign affairs of Bangladesh, Shahar Alam and Syed Muzammil, the HC of Bangladesh, have very kindly agreed to participate. Myanmar is represented by the Prof Dr Aung Tun. The economic advisor to the President of Myanmar, Representatives of the USA, Germany and Singapore would also participate in the seminar.

Mizoram as a gateway to SE Asia

Bureau Report

Aizawl, Oct 5: Aizawl, Oct 5: A two-day international seminar on "Mizoram, Gateway to South East Asia? What needs to be done?" began in Aizawl today with Mizoram chief minister Lal Thanhawia, Union minister of state for external affairs Gen (Dr) V K Singh and Bangladesh state minister for water resources Muhammad Nazrul Islam gracing the inaugural function.

Speaking at the seminar Lal Thanhawia said, "The seminar assumes special significance with recent renewed efforts being made by the Prime Minister in reviving India's 'Look East' policy through its new 'Act East' directions for the country and the North-Eastern Region, particularly in the light of inferences being made that the Look East Policy has not really benefited the North-East in general or Mizoram in particular." He remarked that the subject to be deliberated upon has a direct bearing on Mizoram's development.

The seminar is being jointly organised by Mizoram University and Kolkata-based think tank Research Centre for Eastern & North Eastern Studies (CENERS-K) with the support of Mizoram government, Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) and Numaligarh Refinery Limited (NRL).

Elaborating on the growth of the state, its resources and potentials and pointing to the strategic location of Mizoram, Lal Thanhawia said "Mizoram though land-locked, is ideally positioned, on geographical, commercial and cultural considerations, to become an effective bridge-head of economic and cultural connectivity between India and the ASEAN countries through the North East corridor. Mizoram ends where South East Asia begins. And this bridge-head can lead to the emergence of a new horizon of development for this state, the North Eastern Region and the country as a whole."

He further pointed that the only option for the lagged region to come out of the economic backwaters is to link the region's economy with one of the fastest growing economies i.e. the South East Asian economy. He dwelt on the need to reach out in friendship to our neighbours, conjointly create the infrastructure on either side of the borders, and progressively create much softer borders and go all out to increase commerce and trade. He evinced the support of the State Governments of Tripura, Assam and Manipur, DoNER ministry and the North-Eastern Council to push for Mizoram as the gateway to South East Asia.

Gen (Dr) V K Singh, delivering the special address, remarked that keeping in mind the geo-strategic location of Mizoram, the seminar is very relevant and is apt and said that Mizoram is indeed the gateway to South East Asia. He pointed that the Act East policy has undergone a change of directions in the last two years as Act East Policy. He said that the government is monitoring the progress of the Kaladan Multi Modal Project and envisages early completion in the best possible manner. Elaborating on the importance of connectivity, backend connectivity as well as connectivity amongst the North Eastern state and outlining the importance of container traffic in the context of trade and commerce he said "The ministry of surface transport is laying special emphasis on the development of road network and rail connectivity in Mizoram and Manipur."

Singh dwelt on the good relations that exist between India and the neighbouring countries of Bangladesh and Myanmar and said "Both countries and India are aligned to create business opportunities for their people in all manner possible." He said Mizoram will have an important role to play and has great scope to create opportunities for the people but for this, especially the youth need to be empowered through various skill developments, so that the people can themselves reap the benefits of the policy and added that "It is this capability that needs to be looked into and developed. Pointing to the hydroelectric and tourism potential of the state he said "These resources need to be exploited and harnessed in early time frame while development of small tourism infrastructure and that of rural tourism needs to be taken into consideration." While saying that "Terrorists know no boundaries", he dwelt on the need to curtail any disruptions on development and otherwise by such people and stressed on the need by governments to put robust mechanisms in place to deal with them.

Delivering a keynote address at the seminar, Bangladesh's state minister for water resources Muhammad

Nazrul Islam said that the North Eastern region is very important for Bangladesh and the top priority of his government is opening of the region so that more opportunities are created for the people of both countries. He also pointed to that fact that Bangladesh can provide the vital connectivity between the North Eastern region and the rest of India. Making a mention of how the riverine transport was the lifeline and main connectivity in the pre-partition days for the people of the North Eastern region, he stressed on the need to redevelop waterways. He said bilateral relations between the two countries have never been so good and credited this to the vision of Prime

Point to the fact that rivers are the lifeline of his country, he said siltation has affected the usability and navigability of these rivers and emphasis is being laid on dredging them for which preparations have begun he added. He expressed gratitude that India and its people have honoured the 30 year old riparian treaty with due importance and honesty. He also mentioned that Bangladesh would soon be constructing the Ganges Barrage for which he evinced the support of India and invited India to be one of the stakeholders. He said this project will ensure improving the ecological balance in the Sunderbans in both countries while meeting the water needs of the people of Bangladesh in an equitable manner. He said that Bangladesh has a zero tolerance towards terrorism and would never allow Bangladesh territory to be used for any kind of terrorism or incursions into India.

The two-day seminar will delve into to examine the feasibility of Mizoram becoming the gateway to South East Asia and to recommend what needs to be done for this to bear fruition, to the central and state government and civil society.

Speakers at the seminar which include serving and former diplomats and bureaucrats, industry experts, academicians and researchers dwell upon issues of connectivity, industry, energy and power, trade, commerce, transit, required value addition on primary goods, culture, ecology, border management and security, improvement of foreign and interstate relations to facilitate the same, and to solicit views, particularly of the youth, on the entire matter.

This seminar was conceived by CENERS - K, a premier think tank based in Eastern India to provide a forum for research discussions and debate concerning development, peace and security in the eastern hemisphere as a whole and the eastern and north-eastern states of India in particular.

Aizawl, Oct 6: The visiting Bangladesh's state minister for water resources Muhammad Nazrul Islam said he was impressed by the cultures and tradition of Mizos when he visited typical Mizo model village at Falkawn and the state's museum here today.

"I am privileged to have the opportunity to have better understanding of the cultures and traditions of the Mizos in my neighbouring state," Nazrul was quoted as saying in an official statement.

After seeing antiquities at the state's museum, Nazrul believed Mizos had a great culture in the past. He expressed hope that understanding each other's cultures would strengthen ties between Mizoram and Bangladesh.

Nazrul was received at the museum by Lalchualova, museum curator, art & culture department and other staff. Nazrul was accompanied by Zokey Ahad, deputy high commissioner for Bangladesh.

Budding scientists have field day Science Congress

Bureau Report

Aizawl, Oct 13: Budding scientists – children from various Mizoram schools – were found enthusiastically narrating their innovations and scientific works to visitors at the first Mizoram Science Congress that began today at Mizoram University auditorium today.

Over 70 child scientists exhibit their projects, which were selected for the event after passing through several stages of screening to come to this stage. Altogether there were 50 exhibits, including those from child scientists and several government departments in the science congress under the theme: 'Science & Technology for Shaping the Future of Mizoram'

70 scientists will present papers.

Chief minister Lal Thanhawla, who inaugurated the two-day science congress, said in a developing society like Mizoram there is a need to combine fundamental science and applied science and put a thrust on scientific inventions which would improve our lives.

"As majority of the people of Mizoram depends on agriculture, it is crucial to apply modern technology to boost our agriculture. We need to introduce climate resilient crops to our farmers to cope with the climate change," Lal Thanhawla said.

He also stressed the need and urgency to prepare for possible high magnitude earthquake as Mizoram falls under seismic zone 5. He also talked of the need to harness solar energy. He said development projects should be prepared in such a way as to make the least possible damage to the environment

The Mizoram Science Congress 2016 is joint organised by Mizoram Science, Technology & Innovation Council (MISTIC); Mizoram

Academy of Sciences (MAS); Mizoram Science Society (MSS); Mizoram Mathematics Society (MSS); Geological Society of Mizoram (GSM) and Bio-diversity & Nature Conservation Network (BIOCONE), and is jointly sponsored by the North Eastern Council (NEC), central government's department of Science & Technology (SERB) and MISTIC.

The inaugural function was graced by finance minister Lalsawta, who holds the science and technology department, as guest of honour. It was also attended by Mizoram vice chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga.

Mainstream India should decolonise their attitude to NE people: CM

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Oct 26 : A three-day international seminar on 'Claiming Differences: Literatures and Cultures', organised by Mizoram University's English department began at the university's auditorium today.

Gracing the inaugural function as chief guest, chief minister Lal Thanhawla said, "In a country like India where there is so much diversity of cultures, we need to learn to claim the differences but at the same time integrate that differences with understanding and acceptance."

The Northeast India are made up of small distinct cultures with distinct identities but a common thread binds us with the rest of India, that is the colonial subjugation and its aftermath of imperialism and the wide ranging policies, he said.

"The British often classified us as aborigines, savages and uncivilized. But little did they know of the rich cultural legacies that our forefathers bequeathed us. But the works of anthropologists like Verrier Elvin, Christoph von Haimendorf, Ursula Graham Bower and scholar administrators like J P Mills, Hutton and others have helped documenting our culture. Today, their lifetime works have been valuable sources of information," Lal Thanhawla said.

Saying that decolonisation has brought about a lot of change in India, Lal Thanhawla strongly felt that the so-called 'mainstream India' should also decolonise their attitudes towards the Northeast people and their cultures. "The oft repeated 'unity in diversity' should be nurtured and nourished," he said.

Prof. Paul Arthur,

chair in Digital Humanities & Social Sciences, Edith Cowell University, Australia, gave a keynote address at inaugural function.

The seminar is organised in collaboration with the North Eastern Council (NEC) and Indian Council for Social Sciences Research (ICSSR), New Delhi.

Union minister visits Mizoram

Staff Reporter Aizawl, Oct 28 : Union minister of state for human resources development Mahendra Nath Pandey, who arrived Aizawl today for a one-night stay, called on Governor Lt Gen (retd) Nirbhay Sharma at the Raj Bhavan in the afternoon. The Governor brought to the notice of the Union MoS several needs of Mizoram, appointments of vice-chancellor for Mizoram University, director and chairman of NIT

Mizoram, and appointment of principals for several JNVs and Eklavya Schools that don't have principals. The Governor also brought up the plight of centrally-sponsored Hindi teachers who have not been paid for months. Talking of the need for popularisation of Hindi in Mizoram, the Governor suggested opening of Hindi regional centre in Mizoram and training of teachers to enable them to teach Hindi. He also stressed the need for inclusion of skill development course in the higher secondary schools that would help the students in seeking jobs. Pandey said development of the Northeast region is one of the top priorities of Prime Minister Narendra Modi who accordingly instructed all the ministers to visit the region as frequently as possible to see the people's needs first hand. He assured the Governor to look into the issues he had brought up.

Union MoS inaugurates women hostel for MZU

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Oct 29 : Union minister of state for HRD Dr Mahendra Nath Pandey today inaugurated a girls hostel attached to the Mizoram University in Aizawl today.

The girls hostel has been constructed at the cost of Rs 578.36 lakh with funds from the University Grant Commission (UCG). It has nine triple rooms, 32 double rooms and 15 single rooms.

The Union MoS later had a meeting with the Mizoram University's vice-chancellor Prof R Lalthantluanga, teachers and staff, and lent ears to the problems and needs of the university. The HRD minister promised that he would do his best to develop the infrastructure of the Mizoram University and committed for construction of the varsity's football ground by next year.

Earlier in the morning, Pandey had interacted with officials of the State's Higher & Technical Department. The state officials informed him of the various problems, including the slow internet connectivity in the state that hampers online scholarship application, the need for recruitment of more teachers under Rashtriya Uchchar Shiksha Abhiyan (RUSA), renovation of Mizoram Hindi Training College and the delayed release of fund NLCPR for upgradation of four colleges in Mizoram.

Pandey said development of the Northeast region is one of the top priorities of Prime Minister Narendra Modi who accordingly instructed all the ministers to visit the region as frequently as possible to see the people's needs first hand. He assured the Governor to look into the issues he had brought up.

Pandey said, "By changing previous 'Look East' policy into the 'Act East' policy with more specific thrust, the central government is committed for the overall development of the northeast India."

National symposium on child lore and identity

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Nov 4 : A national symposium on Child lore and Identity was organised by Sahitya Akademi and the department of English, Mizoram University at the MZU Guest House conference hall today.

The symposium deliberated upon the aspect of child lore and identity, which is an ever continuing subject that is complex and multifarious in nature. Identity information is by itself an intricate process that is never quite complete, even during a lifetime.

Researchers across disciplines have posed questions that are related to intricacies that surround and often confront the notion of identity.

Expert faculty from IIT New Delhi, Jadavpur

University Kolkata, Gauhati University and Mizoram University have rendered insightful deliberations on wide ranging perspectives that were focused on -

i) The traditions of children between the ages of about 6 and 15, ii) Games, riddles, rhymes, jokes, pranks, superstitions, magical practices, wit, lyrics, guile, epithets, nicknames, torments, parody, tortures, obscenities, iii) Solitary play, daydreaming, fantasies, imaginary companions and heroes, collections, scrapbooks, model worlds, iv) Comic reading, mass media interests, dramatizations, stories, art, traditional games, street games, song riddles, and rhymes.

Puppet show at MZU

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Nov 8: The

Community Development Cell (CDC) in collaboration with the Department of Mass Communication, Mizoram University performed a Puppet Show at the Government Primary School, Sakawrtuichhun on 8th November 2016. The Department of Mass Communication has been performing Puppet Shows regularly every first semester as part of their course assignment.

This is the sixth time this year the Department has collaborated with CDC as part of their role in reaching out to adopted villages. Puppet shows as a kind of Folk Media has been utilised effectively in informing, educating and entertaining young kids in the community. This year's Puppet Show put out four stories with teachable life lessons for these young kids in the school and was greeted with loud cheer and the kids thoroughly enjoyed it. jai, President of AMWJU and several scribes took part in the protest.

Banners which read "Don't suppress freedom of expression", and "why single out NDTV" were put up by the scribes. The scribes also showed their solidarity with NDTV and condemned the decision of the Ministry of Information and Broad-casting, Government of India.

T Romana College to have its own building

Staff Reporter

Aizawl, Nov 6: Govt Romana College will now have its own building at Republic Vengthlang a foundation of which was laid by chief minister Lal Thanhawla on Saturday.

Speaking at the foundation laying ceremony, the chief minister said even though improvement of the quality of education in Mizoram was one of the top priorities of his government, shortage of fund prevented the government from fully implementing the recommendations of the Mizoram Education Reforms Commission.

The government allotted a 4.7-bigha plot within the Govt Republic Vengthlang Middle School campus for construction of T Romana College building.

Lal Thanhawla congratulated the college for having its own land. He said, "A number of colleges in Aizawl do not have their own lands and buildings while some are located in congested neighbourhoods. We will see to it that all colleges have good campuses."

He expressed concern over encroachment on government lands by private landowners. "Such encroachment has prevented construction Govt J Thankima College building at Brigade area in Bawngkawn," he said.

He said RUSA would be utilised for infrastructure development in government colleges.

T Romana College

building, measuring 59.5x41.4 feet would be constructed with fund from RUSA.

Home minister R Lalzirlana and higher & technical education minister R Romawia were also present in the foundation laying function.

T Romana College was established in 1992 by students organisations and generous businessman T Romana (late). The college was given deficit status in 2002 and then provincialised in 2007. The college got B grade accreditation in the last assessment by NAAC in 2014. Presently, it offers eight degree courses and has 34 teachers and 19 non-teaching staff and 887 students.

IIMC to offer journalism courses in local languages

Staff Reporter Aizawl, Nov 24 : Emphasising the importance of journalism courses in regional and local languages, Director General of Indian Institute of Mass Communication (IIMC) K G Suresh today said the premier institute will also have journalism course in local vernacular.

Inaugurating a two-day national seminar on "Media, Technology and Power of Politics: The Indian Conventicle," Suresh said "It is utmost important to bring back objectivity to the media in the country".

He said substitution of good old field reporting by panel discussion in the television is a great loss to the nation.

Technology shift in journalism had come around as social media had become fodder for the news, he said, adding that while he does not believe in any regulation of media by the state, there should be self-regulation.

The seminar, organised by the Department of Mass Communication, Mizoram University, was attended by academicians from the Mizoram University and other states.
